

COVID-19: Delaney Partners Response

At this time of global challenge arising from the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, we at Delaney Partners wish to assure our clients and friends around the world of our care, concern and readiness.

The Bahamas has taken prudent steps of public education, healthcare readiness, and travel bans to restrict entry of persons from COVID-19 high-risk areas.

As the COVID-19 situation evolves, should it become necessary, our firm is ready to function in a remote electronic environment to the maximum extent possible. This is achievable because of our existing technology infrastructure, including state of art integrated law firm management e-system, electronic communications and conferencing capabilities, and electronic billings and payments systems. For the protection of clients who may attend our offices and our staff, we have in place heightened protocols for hygiene which include increased use of alcohol-based hand sanitizers, regular cleaning of high-touch areas (such as door handles), and increased procedures for cleaning of the office environment.

Throughout this global challenge, we will remain available to assist you. Should you have any question or concern please do not hesitate to contact the member of our team responsible for your matter.
